

Oprah Winfrey is known all over the world for being an amazing talk show host. Oprah is a talented entertainer, she donates to charity, and is a determined, proud woman. Oprah Winfrey`s hard work and dedication makes her worthy to be on a postage stamp.

Oprah Winfrey is a talented entertainer. She is a great actress; she played Sofia in “The Color Purple”, later Winfrey was nominated for an academy award. She hosts the “Oprah Winfrey Show”, and it’s a huge success. She gives her viewers hope, and makes them want to keep watching. Beside the “Oprah Winfrey Show” she has “O” magazine. On April, 17, 2000 she created the magazine and now has millions of readers. Oprah entertains millions through many different mediums.

When Oprah is not entertaining, she is most likely giving and donating to others, Oprah has donated more than fifty million dollars to charity. She contributed ten million dollars to the leadership academy for girls in South Africa. If Oprah’s not donating money to them she is giving them hope. She gives children and students with little money many things. She started a scholarship at Tennessee state university. Winfrey also started many other things like the big sister group and Oprah’s angel network. She gives hope and donates money to people all over the world.

Finally, she is a very determined woman. Winfrey dieted all her life but she always regained the weight she lost. Now Oprah has a personal trainer and has lost sixty seven pounds and kept it off. Oprah had a hard childhood and overcame many challenges. She was abused as a kid and she blamed herself. Winfrey grew up in a town with little to no hope, but she still fights for what she believes in. Oprah helped make legislations to aid in preventing child abuse, she testified in front of the senate judiciary committee, a very important committee in the united states senate. Oprah Winfrey is very determined.

Oprah`s hard work and dedication really shows why she should be on a postage stamp. She is a great entertainer, she gives and donates to others, and also she is an independent determined woman. Oprah is honestly an influential person.
