

A strange British man who claimed to be a British general, Washington he called himself, came to our officers in the Ohio River area today, and asked them to leave. They were working on the fort construction down there and the British general

February 1755
The British are now in control of Acadia. They are changing many things here, including the name: we are now supposed to call it 'Nova Scotia'. They are even trying to change us. They

February 11, 1763
More bad news has come, France has given up on us, they have abandoned New France. The British king, the Spanish king and ours signed a treaty

The British landing for their first attack.

Spring 1774
For once, I bring good news: the British's attempt to turn us into another one of their loyal colonies has failed, as we know it would. They have finally realized that we have such a strong sense of identity and such great determination to survive as a people, that we

1790
Many people from the Thirteen colonies have been coming up to Quebec to live where they will not be tortured by the Rebel groups to occupy most of the land down there. We have heard stories that those people, who call themselves the Loyalists, because they are remaining loyal to the British

August 1812
Once again, peace has disappeared and we will enter yet another war. Tensions between Britain and America have heated up and they cannot get along for many reasons. It has been rumored that the British have even been taking Americans against their will and making them work in the British

The American War of Independence.

1832
Everyone is unhappy with the government right now, in both Upper and Lower Canada, it just doesn't make sense to have a governor who is appointed by Britain for control affairs in Canada, we should have a governor of our own. There are a few groups of people who call

1845
Now that we are in a time of peace, Britain has taken immediate action: they are trying to fill up all of British North America with Jeffrey's Patriotes and a group of Patriotes.
